

I RISE TO REMARK

BY JOHN PHILLIPS

Honorable Harry S. Truman,
President of the United States,
The White House,
My dear Mr. President:

I have a problem. You are the only one who can help me solve it. I represent a district in which about three hundred thousand people live, and they are very fine people, and intelligent people. In fact, I consider them above the average intelligence of the country. They are interested in domestic and international matters. If I had space, I'd explain why I say these things. Perhaps when you were a Senator from Missouri, you thought the same of the people of that State, so you'll understand my position now.

Now Mr. President, my problem is this: what am I going to tell my people about this special session and about your message on July 21st? You went over to Philadelphia and you cheered up a convention of your party by coming out of your corner fighting, and announcing you were going to call a special session of the Congress. You didn't discuss this with your leaders, nor with ours; you did it under the "extraordinary occasion" provision of the Constitution. What shall I tell my people was "extraordinary" about it?

What shall I tell them about the situation in Berlin? Maybe that was "extraordinary," but you didn't say a word about that, all the time we were here.

One of our committees did hear witnesses who had worked in the communist movement, and gave names and addresses of government appointees who had given secret information to the Russians. You said that was a "red herring," although it was confirmed by FBI records. That's going to be hard for me to explain. Why wouldn't you permit the records of these employees, who were really accused of treason, to be sent to the Congress? I won't know how to explain your position on that.

What troubles me more, is an apparent inconsistency about the cost of living problem. You said a year ago that inflation was our most serious threat, and that government spending was the cause of inflation. You say (on July 27th) that the cost of living is so serious that Congress has to do something about it. I won't argue that now. Personally I don't think Congress has any patent medicine for sale. What troubles me is that in the same speech you proposed the expenditure of billions of dollars for cheap houses for low income groups, which everyone admits would increase inflation, besides not getting any more houses built. You want the cost of living reduced, yet your message, if we had accepted your recommendations, would have increased government expenditures by about 50% and put the nation ten billions a year in the red, instead of in the black, as Congress has been trying to keep it.

Mr. President, these things concern me. How in the world am I going to explain your message to my people at home?

Your troubled friend from Banning,
John Phillips, M. C.

Interest Centers On School Term Opening

Work is progressing according to schedule on the new addition being built at the Cypress elementary school grounds. According to the school principal, Miss Elizabeth Dickerson, it is expected that school will open on September 13, which will indeed be a "grand" opening because of the six new primary rooms to be finished for the fall term of school. The buildings are of the most modern type architecture and will be furnished with classroom equipment to provide the best of education opportunities for the children of Cypress. The equipment was ordered as long ago as last summer, and practically all of it has been received and is ready to be placed in the various rooms, from information received from the secretary of the board, Dan T. Mackay.

The older building is being renovated to correspond with the new structure. Last fall the fifth grade room was modernized with new concentric semi-indirect lighting, and was painted. Representatives from other schools have visited here to inspect the installations and have gone home to recommend them for their own schools. Now all of the rooms will be fitted with indirect lights and poor lighting in several rooms corrected to correspond throughout the system. The contract for this work was let to the Selfridge electric company, of Fullerton, according to Mackay. He stated also that all of the rooms will now have acousti-celotex insulation on the ceilings, this improvement being under the direction of the contractor, "Tommy" Norcross, of Long Beach. P. C. Browne, of Fullerton, has contracted for the painting, which is being done to correspond uniformly throughout the school. All of the renovating is expected to be finished by August 28. Concrete has been poured in the arcade which will finish up to the small section where there is still an open ditch. However, the contractor is confident that all work will be completed by the date set by the county to begin the fall term of school. This will be well in advance of the date set in the contract, which was September 13. On this date the contractor files a "notice of completion". Thirty-five days later the contractor is paid in full and the building legally belongs to the school district.

The annual "Kindergarten Tea" for all mothers who have children of Kindergarten age will be held Wednesday afternoon, September eighth, at two o'clock in the utility room of the school. The board of trustees wishes to announce the faculty list for the coming year with the properly assigned grades, which was completed this week. Headed by Miss Dickerson, the principal, the staff is as follows: Mrs. Clarissa Higgins, kindergarten; Miss Geraldine Perrin and Mrs. Dorthea Mitchell, first grades; Miss Wanda Armour and Mrs. Blanche Barth, second grades; Miss Marjorie Turpin and Mrs. Elizabeth Jones, third grades; Mrs. Myrtha Baber and Mrs. Pauline Thompson, fourth grades; Miss Mildred Dean, fifth grade; Mrs. Henrietta Arnold, combination fifth and sixth grades; Mrs. Lois Lissner, sixth grade; Leonard Rowe, seventh grade; Paul Winsor, eighth grade; Mrs. Dorey Harper, music supervisor.

HARDING ENLISTEE GIVEN SEND-OFF AT CALAWAY HOME

Gilbert Boutcher, who recently enlisted in the Army Air Corps and who left yesterday for Lockland Field, San Antonio, where he will receive basic training, was given a farewell party on Friday night by his aunt, Mrs. Frances Smith and his grandmother, Mrs. Lauretta Nunnally. Scene of the party was the patio of the Harvey Calaway home on Harding street with Mrs. Calaway assisting as co-hostess.

Various games were played by the young people until refreshment time. Guests were all friends of young Boutcher while attending Anaheim high school from which he was graduated last June. In the group were Mary Middleton, Ellen Hillary, Teddy Lou Payne, Sonia Haas, Dolph Underwood, Dolores Willis, Willa Wilson, Gertrude Homan, Andy Samis, Ronnie Maese, Bill Steinborn, Don Ames, Gilbert Martinez, Don Calaway, Allan Meyer, Jack Woodmansee, Gerald Thatcher, Louise Stephens, Eddie Stringer, Steve Fitz and the honor guest.

MOVIES Tonight!

The movie you were promised and have been waiting for is on the bill of fare tonight. See Slim Summerville and Zasu Pitts in "Miss Polly", a rollicking comedy. By attending the movie you will not only add to your enjoyment and entertainment, but help to add to the recreation park fund as well. We'll see you at the school auditorium where the movies are held under the auspices of local merchants.

Son of Former Cypress Family Dies Strangely

Friends of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Worrell, former Cypress residents who made their home on Gay street and who now live in Long Beach, were shocked to learn of the death of their nine-year old son, Gary Lowell, on Tuesday of last week.

It was the habit of the lad to ride from the driveway into the garage on the top of his father's car. On Tuesday night, the boy's father stated, he had put the car away about eight o'clock and as on previous occasions, he was accompanied by Gary and his 12-year old brother, Ronald. It was Gary's turn to close the garage doors his father, followed by Ronald, hurried into the house to answer the telephone.

When Gary failed to show up after a short time, it was supposed he was playing with other children in the neighborhood. Finally Ronald went out to look for him and rushed into the house to tell his parents that Gary was still on top of the car. The lad was lifted down and a physician and inhalator squad summoned but to no avail.

An autopsy was performed and it was found that the boy had died of a brain concussion caused by his head banging against the garage door nullifying the theory that death might have been caused by a fall or that the car aerial had pierced the boy's eye.

Funeral services were held on Friday morning in the chapel of the Sponberg mortuary in Long Beach with the Reverend Robert B. Shattuck officiating. Entombment was made in the Angeles Abbey Mausoleum in Compton. In addition to his parents and brother, survivors include his grandmothers, Mrs. Mildred Millard of Bellflower and Mrs. Emma Olson of Long Beach and great-grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Verese of Long Beach.

The boy's father is a paint contractor and has been associated in business with his brother, Gordon Worrell, also a Cypress resident, for many years. The paternal grandmother, Mrs. Olson, also lived in Cypress, serving for many years on the election board of precinct, No. one.

Business Changes Hands And Moves From Lincoln

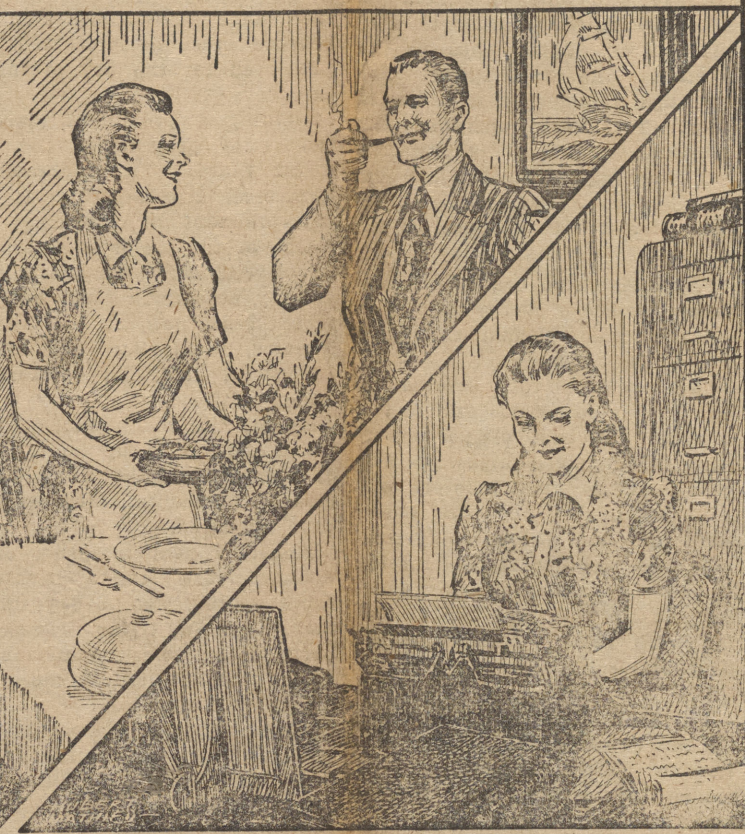

The building at 5381 Lincoln avenue has been vacated completely during the past week. Kenneth Brown has moved the Cypress Appliance repair shop to the garage of his recently purchased home at 5252 Lincoln avenue. His brother-in-law and partner, Carroll Qualls, is presently staying in Long Beach and is expected to enter school in Los Angeles in the near future to continue his education in the study of refrigeration.

Harvey Pennington, who pioneered preparing the barracks type building for occupancy by a business firm, and who was the only member remaining of the three who formed "The trio cabinet shop", has sold his interests entirely to Frank Galloway, of 9131 Hansen road. Galloway bought the machinery from Pennington and moved it to the garage in the rear of his home at the rated address, where he will operate his cabinet shop. Pennington has been employed as a Class "A" mechanic at North American on the second shift, although he will continue to accept orders from his former customers in the future. Currently he is under the doctor's care and has been given orders to rest and take it easy until he has recovered from a severe case of shingles.

PETS AND KIDDIES TO JOIN IN WHITE GOLD DAY PARADE

When White Gold Day in Cypress dawned clear and bright on the morning of September 18, all activity will center about the first event of the day—the parade. Under the direction of the chairman, James M. Bryant, plans are going forward rapidly on this event.

It is planned to divide the entries and scatter them by groups along Walker street, beginning at Crescent, so that the line of march will converge in all its splendor as it proceeds down Lincoln avenue. Six members of the Black Eagle motorcycle club will aid in policing the streets as the procession moves toward the schoolhouse.

There will soon be available entry blanks for those wishing to be a part of the parade. The children will be especially happy to know that the pet parade will once again be a major part of the parade. Kiddies wishing to take part may sign entry blanks if they wish. These will be available through the chairman of the parade committee, or at various business firms. Tickets for the event, when a television set will be given away, and also adult and children's tickets for the big barbecue are now available through the various merchants and individuals and posters announce the plans for White Gold Day in Cypress. White gold—or-milk—will be the theme throughout the celebration to remind the celebrants that the purpose of the fête is to raise money—lots of money—to help pay for a recreation park for the youngsters of this growing community, a plot of ground on which it is hoped to start development as soon as sufficient money is available.

Any person in the community desiring to work on a committee or help in any way may contact the general chairman, Richard V. Hathcock, in the M & H market. Volunteers will be appreciated to help on committees in preparation for the big day.

IT'S BEING SAID - - IN CYPRESS

That if you are a boy or girl living in Cypress and would be interested in having a pen friend in Australia, we would suggest that you write to Patricia McHenry, 1 Barclay street, Mayfield, Newcastle, N.S.W., Australia. Patricia is 15½ years of age, but the fact that she types well and already works in a business office might indicate that she is a little advanced to a child of similar age in this country. We cannot stress too much the fact that you would gain as much from an experience of this kind as you probably would from a year's course of study in school on a similar subject.

That Rick, from the jewelry repair shop, has been quiet about his trip to Las Vegas and hasn't given out any information as to the details, but he has been a boon to those saving silver dollars around town as he has been the means of their adding considerably to their wealth for the last few days. We understand that he is now "down" once again to folding money.

That if you should see the Great Dane from Angeles Rancho up town, don't be surprised if he doesn't answer to "Shorty". The reason is that his name is "Ricky". So sorry, please. You can call the Saint Bernard puppy who weighs as much as we do almost "Pal" though.

That two of the younger set around town are limping these days. Jonathan Wright didn't watch where he was going, or else went where he was looking, and stepped on a wire which pierced his foot. Carol Dewell has "athletes' foot," only in the sense that she strained a ligament in the arch, and being a member of the girls' softball team, the diagnosis must be correct.

That representatives of the southern Counties gas company's work crew were in town one day last week looking for Karen street, which they complained, was not in the location shown on the county map. This brought up an interesting revelation by the well-informed. Did you know that the name was chosen by her father, Price Siebert, to honor twenty-year-old Karen? We congratulate her on having a thoroughfare named for her.

That we spent an interesting few moments the other day chatting with Mary Louise Ratliff, of Buena Park who came into our office to place her subscription to the Cypress Enterprise. It is always uplifting in these days of racial strife to listen quietly while someone explains a well-founded conviction to the principles that all men are created equally, and to know that the belief is sincere. It was interesting to us to learn that original members of the family were large landholders in Louisiana in the early days of the nation, and employed many members of the black race. Since the negroes very often had no names of their own, they adopted the name of their master. Today it is not uncommon for a negro bearing the name "Ratliff" to contact the family and offer his services because of the feeling he bears for the fact that he still "belongs".

NOTICE

The local chapter of the Veterans of Foreign Wars and the Cypress Volunteer Firemen's association extend an invitation to all to attend the dance given jointly at the Cypress Airpark hangar Saturday evening, August fourteenth. (That's this Saturday night).

Proceeds of the affair will be divided jointly between the two organizations, both of which have worthy projects underway for which money is needed, and support by the community will be appreciated.

The V.F.W. has obtained the services of a fine musical organization for the event, and refreshments will be available at the site of the dance. The Cypress Airpark is east of town on Lincoln avenue. Everyone is invited to come and have a good time.

Local Firemen Plan For Open House Soon

Local residents who have been interested in progress being made on the new building to house fire-fighting equipment of the Cypress Volunteer fire department, will be interested in knowing that the structure is nearing completion. As soon as it is finished, the firemen are planning for an open house so that the community may inspect the premises.

Included, besides the big room quarters for two men, with kitchen and shower to complete, the living facilities. It is also planned that all meetings of the fire department and social events of the group and their families will be held here.

Invitations to the grand opening will be issued soon to the citizens and also to well known public dignitaries throughout the area.

One Polio Case Reported This Year In Cypress

Dr. E. P. Brauner, assistant health officer, reported last week that there have been only thirteen Orange county cases of polio this year. This total includes cases reported last year near Buena Park and Laguna Beach.

Three cases involving people who have contracted the dread disease outside the county and just happened to be in the county when stricken, are not included in the total. There have been no fatalities from polio in the county, although one death resulted recently from one of the out-of-county victims. The one death reported occurred in the case of Mrs. G. E. Cook, 35, who had contracted the disease before she arrived for a visit in a home at Corona de Mar. She died at Los Angeles General hospital. Coming from Pasadena, she had felt ill the day after she arrived.

The residence in Corona del Mar was vacated and cleaned, under the supervision of the County Health Department. Members of the victim's family, her husband and four children, are in isolation in Pasadena.

In discussing polio symptoms and prevention, Dr. Brauner cautioned particularly against fatigue. He said that the Pasadena woman's case was attributable to fatigue. So was the case of the Laguna man, who had spent seven hours fishing then worked on the motor of his boat, and became ill next morning.

Dr. Brauner urged parents to see that their children do not over-exert themselves. Avoid fatigue, sunburn and chilling, he said.

He pointed out that one difficulty in the fight against polio is the fact that early symptoms are mild and therefore generally disregarded. Symptoms are muscular aches, slight aches and pains, persistent headaches, slight temperature (about 100 or 101, although sometimes as high as 102), stiff neck, backache, stiff back and in some cases nausea.

Warns Against Sunburn
Report any suspected case immediately to a doctor, he urged. County polio patients are kept in the communicable disease pavilion of the Orange County Hospital.

Dr. Brauner remarked that many parents have asked about the danger of swimming pools, which have been mentioned as "spreaders" of polio. The only danger, he said, was the likelihood of over-exertion, plus the possibility of sunburn and chilling.

Cypress Voters to Have Added Polls At Next Election

At the primary election last June, the fact was brought out that Cypress had outgrown its two voting precincts. Due to the increase in population, too large a burden was thrown upon the members of the election board, especially in precinct No. one, whose returns were the last ones to reach the court house, there being over 400 votes cast. Cypress has been divided into four precincts with Walker street and Lincoln avenue as the dividing lines. Precinct No. one will be the northwest portion and the polling place will be Cypress fire hall; precinct No. two will be the southwest section and the polling place will be the school house; precinct No. three takes in the southeast section and voting will be done in the library and precinct No. four, northeast section, will vote at the Cypress drug store.

Residents In Los Alamitos Hear About Sanitation

Aroused by the question of drainage for the community, particularly the new subdivision of Alamo Ranchos, over 100 persons attended the recent meeting of the local chapter of commerce at which County Supervisor Willis Warner was present.

When the government built Lexington avenue to the Naval Air Base and Katella Avenue which leads into Lexington, they were elevated about two feet higher than the surrounding ground. The new subdivision was built on the low ground and now there is no way to drain off the water in the rainy season. At first, the commander of the naval base gave permission to put a culvert under Lexington where it crosses the corner of the base where the water could drain into a ditch on Farquhar street. The ditch along Farquhar street was dug but no one knows who did it or by whose authority, Warner stating he had known nothing of it until it was brought to his attention. In the meantime, the new commander of the naval base withdrew permission to tunnel under Lexington and the open ditch remained as a hazard to both motor traffic and pedestrians. Warner promised the ditch would be filled in but the drainage is still unsolved.

A petition for curbs and gutters on Howard, Green, Farquhar and Cherry streets is being circulated to aid in draining that area and also to keep the streets in better condition.

Warner promised the group that if everything "went well," the trunk sewer line from the ocean would be completed within two years.

"I Remember Mama" Current

Orange county's talent is well-represented this week at Holiday Stage in Tustin. The large cast of "I Remember Mama", which will open tonight at the local theatre, features many people from nearby communities, including Irma Huffman May, well-known Santa Ana who is a member of the permanent company, Margaret Rouzard of Orange, Beverly Ann Bash of Santa Ana, Carl Auer of Brea, Don Quinn of Tustin, and Coleen Rowland of Fullerton. Star of the modern classic is Mary Finn, favorite of county audiences, as the Norwegian-American "Mama", with Beverly Campbell of Laguna Beach, as the daughter, Astrin.

Three new members were accepted at the meeting of the Chamber of Commerce held last Monday evening in the auditorium of the Cypress elementary school. They were I. W. Nix, Ross Crabtree and James Moss.

A letter was read inviting officers and members of the local organization to attend a meeting in the community clubhouse at Santa Ana the following evening of the Associated chambers to discuss problems concerning the operation of the sanitation district. However, the matter could not be given official consideration because of the fact that the information was received so late that attendance was not possible. A letter was read from E. L. Whitson, currently prominent in the interests of providing for sanitation in west Orange county, in which he explained that he was on vacation at the time of the open meeting several weeks ago and offering to appear at a later meeting. It is not contemplated attempting another meeting in the near future and no plans were made or suggested in this matter.

In order to carry on the business of the group efficiently and add a note of authority, the secretary was authorized to order new stationery and also to have printed individual membership cards to be displayed by businesses which are members of the chamber of commerce. These will take the form more or less of "booster" cards.

It was voted to return the incorporation papers for the Cypress chamber of commerce, which have been going the rounds for two years and have yet to be accepted, returned to the original committee headed by Dan Mackay. It is felt that these papers will be accepted in the near future and that the committee which did the original work and planning should have the credit for their completion.

In the absence of the secretary, Russell Flynn, and the assistant secretary, Haskell Kelley, A. E. Arnold consented to act as secretary for the time being. Flynn has turned over the secretary's books to the president, Stan Doerr, because of the pressure of work required in the operation of his own business. Because of the very satisfactory manner in which the detailed work of the secretary has been performed, the members were loathe to accept any form of resignation except a written one to terminate Flynn's services as secretary before the end of the year.

A brief report was heard from the committee in charge of the joint meeting on the next regularly scheduled meeting night which will be in the form of a social at the schoolhouse held in conjunction with the Cypress Post No. 9847 of the Veterans of Foreign Wars. This affair will be open to all who are interested in the activities of the community and it is expected that a large group of townspeople will be present. A short program is planned and refreshments will be served.

New Home To Be Built Here

It was announced this week that work will be started immediately on a new residence to be built on property adjoining Ernie's drive-in restaurant to the north. The permit to build was granted last week to Marion Precie.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Corda sold their home on Moody street last week to a Williams family from Long Beach, who are expected to move in this week. Mrs. Corda is Precie's mother.

ARE YOU A KILLER AT HEART?

You would take definite precautions if the headlines of this newspaper announced: KILLERS AT LARGE! You'd probably lock your doors and cancel your evening stroll.

But vicious killers ARE at large during these balmy summer months. During July and August they will take thousands of unsuspecting lives. Needless and heedlessly they will maim and scar thousands more victims.

Who are these public enemies? ACCIDENTS.

According to safety experts of the Accident Prevention Department, Association of Casualty and Surety Companies, the three worst killers during July and August are traffic accidents, drowning, and excessive heat. Crippling automobile accidents move from city streets to rural highways, because of the great number of speeding holiday drivers, indifferent to safety rules. The number of children under the age of 5 who are run down by automobiles also rises, because this is the season when they are allowed to play out-of-doors. Drownings are an obvious vacation-time hazard. Heat prostration and sun stroke take a heavy toll of workers and players alike.

But who are the real criminals in this wave of death and injury? The deadly trio do the killing, of course, but the reason they do is that they are aided and abetted by their careless victims. CARELESSNESS is the basic crime of accidental death. So the victims are really the criminals.

That makes it SUICIDE, not MURDER. Will you commit suicide this summer? Or will you play safe and not take chances?

Labor disgraces no man; unfortunately you occasionally find men who disgrace labor. — Ulysses S. Grant, Speech at Arbitration Union, Birmingham, England.

In a game last Tuesday evening at the school grounds with the girls on the "Sunny acres" team from Whittier, the Cypress girls' softball team won 8-5. On a promise made by Marion Precite at Ernie's Drive-In, the members collected one malted milk each for being on the winning side. The team is coached by Dick Gulman, and Nelda Wright is team captain.

Not to be outdone by the local girl's team, the boys also won their game with the Buena Park boys' softball team in a game here last Monday evening, the score being 14-7. The team is coached by Jim Vinzor, assisted by Dick Gulman, and bears the name of "Ernie's Drive-In boys' softball team."

These teams may be seen in action at the local school diamond. They deserve the support of local residents.

Mr. and Mrs. Stan Doerr and Tommy attended the performance of "I remember Mama", at Holiday stage in Tustin Tuesday evening. Others present were Mrs. Paul Kroessen and her mother, Mrs. Stella Week of La Crescenta, and Beth Kroessen.

THIS AND THAT

Too much speed, too much smoke, too much noise, too much overloading and following too closely—these were the sins of truck drivers uncovered by the California Highway Patrol which announced a statewide enforcement program based on a scientific survey covering six months and extending into various parts of the state.

Electronic sound level meters, smoke densitometers, and electronic timing devices were used.

"Our records show heavy vehicles are traveling entirely too fast," said C. E. Peterson, highway patrol commissioner. "For instance, one operator is forced to average 57.6 miles per hour for over 400 miles in order to meet his contract agreements for deliveries. The state speed limit for such vehicles is 40 miles an hour. This same operator is a constant violator of overloading and other regulations and last year the California Highway Patrol issued almost 250 citations to his drivers.

"Excessive smoke and noise are causing concern everywhere. The nuisance has reached the point where it is alarming."

"The problem of overloading has become so serious that in two counties the cost of partial repairs to damaged highways this year will be approximately one million dollars. For the entire state this sum will be staggering. We are meeting it by forcing trucks to unload their over weights and this year this unloading will reach fifteen million pounds."

Public utility property, assessed by the State Board of Equalization for local tax purposes, is valued this year at an all-time high of more than $1,368,000,000. Subject to tax rates identical with those applying to property assessed locally, this State-assessed property will produce almost $70,000,000 of current city, county and district revenues.

In Orange county tangible property assessed by the state board is valued this year at $21,966,300, marking an increase of 1.94 per cent over the corresponding figure in 1947.

Featuring the slogan "Take a Kid Fishing," sportsmen of California are embarked on a campaign against juvenile delinquency which has already received widespread public endorsement.

The plan calls for adults to arrange fishing trips for boys who otherwise would not be able to toss a line in the water.

Boys who want to go fishing and men who can arrange to take them sign up through organized groups and the two are brought together.

The first club to put the plan into practice, Stockton Rod and Gun Club, reports enthusiasm among all who have taken part in it.

"A boy fishing is not only out of trouble, he is improving his health and bringing home the bacon, as it were," says Bob Williams of the Stockton Club. "He is also being impressed with the fact that California's fish resources must be protected and preserved for the boy of the future."

Holding a prominent place in the 11-day program of the California State Fair, Sacramento, September 2 through 12, is the entertainment for children.

One of the major attractions to be offered the youngsters is a comedy act which will be presented twice daily in the October Theatre, featuring the Little Prospector and his performing Mule.

Abner, the mule, and Si Otis, his master, team up for a series of comedy stunts which have pleased audiences wherever they have appeared.

Abner, 17-year offspring of a Spanish Jack and a Kentucky thoroughbred, has a bag full of more than 50 tricks. These he performs at voice commands, instead of following the more ordinary "cue signals."

Abner, Si says, is not temperamental; he never refuses a command, and has none of the stubborn characteristics commonly attributed to mules. He travels about the country in a specially designed truck, for which he shows a decided preference.

Luncheon guests of Mrs. F. E. Stowers on Thursday were her daughter, Mrs. Jean Hamlin; and Barry Vroom of Lakewood Village and Jimmy Hamlin of Sapulpa, Oklahoma.

Delbert Reed, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Reed, is slowly recovering from serious injuries received in an automobile accident two weeks ago. Doctors have pronounced him out of danger if he gets plenty of rest. A punctured kidney, pictured by X-rays, may heal in time if the patient avoids undue exertion or strain. Miss Patricia Dean, who was also in the accident, and Reed now recognize members of their immediate families, although physicians to both say it may be some time before memory is fully returned to them.

HOW TO DIVIDE AND PLANT IRIS

After digging, clump should be cleaned with stream from hose. Note that healthy, growing rhizomes circle the clump, while those in center have very few white feeding roots. Before planting a new bed of iris, dig in plant food and cultivate well. When ready to plant, dig two slanting holes, leaving a dividing ridge in the center.

Healthy, growing rhizomes are separated from old bloom stalks. Some prefer "doubles." Wash rhizomes thoroughly before replanting.

Place rhizome directly over center of ridge and spread feeding roots evenly to each side. By spreading roots to either side, the plant is securely anchored.

Pull dirt in towards plant from either side. By pressing on top of root, proper planting depth may be regulated. Firm with foot and water well.

A FEW CULTURAL TIPS: While it is true that irises are among the easiest of all plants to grow, anyone who plans to grow even a few irises should not be content to achieve merely indifferent results. Most irises will succeed well in any type of soil from almost pure sand to stiff clay.

Where one may choose, a medium heavy, fairly well enriched soil—in other words, ordinary good garden soil—is to be preferred. Go easy on fertilizers, especially animal fertilizer; this sometimes promotes lush growth and eventual rot! Bone meal, well worked in, is safe, and good.

Don't plant in deeply shaded situation, and avoid places where roots of large trees or big shrubs rob the soil of plant food and moisture. Be sure drainage is good.

Plant at least two feet apart; after first year, sparse appearance will have vanished. If immediate effect is desired, plant in groups of three or a kind, about a foot apart, the groups at 3-foot intervals.

DISEASES AND PESTS: Although comparatively free from garden enemies, soft rot of the rhizomes or spotting of the foliage sometimes manifests itself. The former, usually the result of poor drainage or an over-wet season, can be controlled by cutting back to sound tissue or replanting. Leaf spot, like the measles, is not fatal. Cutaway and burn infected foliage and dust with copper or Bordeaux solution.
